PROFIL

I am a fourth-year Computer Engineering student at ENSET Mohammedia, specializing in Software Engineering and Distributed Information Systems. I hold a Higher Technician Certificate (BTS) in Information Systems Development, which has provided me with strong expertise in software development and IT systems management.

Passionate about new technologies, I have a particular interest in everything related to development. Curious and highly motivated, I am constantly seeking to deepen my knowledge and take on technical challenges in these ever-evolving fields.
